

Ramhari Lamichhane, PhD
Director General, CPSC

Dr. Ramhari Lamichhane is the first Nepali and the 11th Director General of CPSC. Concurrently, he is the President of Asia Pacific Accreditation and Certification Commission (APACC). He is a certified project assessor, experienced project manager, TVET Expert, and a seasoned manager at a policy level.

Dr. Ramhari has served as Member Secretary/Chief Executive Officer of the Council for Technical Education and Vocational Training (CTEVT) in Kathmandu, Nepal (2013-2016) prior to his appointment as CPSC Director General. He was involved in the development of a National TVET Policy in Nepal, as well as the development and implementation of TVET programs for 25 years in different positions, as an Instructor, Principal, Program Coordinator, Project Manager and Director. He also taught MBA students for 15 years as a part-time Faculty of White House College, Purwanchal University, Nepal.

He has participated and delivered paper presentations in a number of international conferences and programs on TVET in more than 20 countries, including those conducted by CPSC. He has also authored and co-authored journal papers and books on various areas of TVET, such as TVET Accessibility, TVET Financing, Gender and Equality in TVET, M & E, Greening TVET, QMS, Technopreneurship and Image Building of TVET.

Dr. Lamichhane earned a Doctor of Philosophy and Master of Philosophy (M. Phil) in Education Leadership from Kathmandu University in Nepal (2000-2006). He has a degree in Educational Administration, Planning and Policy as a Humphrey/Fulbright Professional from Peabody College/Vanderbilt University, USA (2010-2011). He also studied Advanced Diploma in Hospitality Management from TAFE, South Australia (1995-1996). He obtained his Master in Business Management (MBA) (1989-1990) and his Bachelor in Commerce degrees from (1987-1988) from Tribhuvan University, Nepal.